

Chiang Mai University Announcement
Teaching Assistant and Research Assistant Scholarships Academic Year 2026
For New Students (Student Code 69…)

Chiang Mai University has allocated funds to provide financial support for graduate students—both in Thai and International programs—who are required to conduct a thesis. The scholarships aim to attract high-potential students with strong academic performance to study at Chiang Mai University while working as Teaching Assistants (TA) or Research Assistants (RA).

The initiative is intended to reduce students' financial burden and enhance their teaching, research, and knowledge-transfer skills. Details are as follows:

1. Scholarship Categories and Benefits

1.1 Teaching Assistant and Research Assistant Scholarships (Doctoral Level)

A total of 75 scholarships will be awarded to doctoral students. The funding structure is as follows:

- First-Year Funding: Each student will receive funding up to 90,000 THB per year, disbursed monthly at a rate of up to 9,000 THB for a maximum period of 10 months.
- Subsequent Years: Each student will receive funding up to 108,000 THB per year, disbursed monthly at a rate of up to 9,000 THB for a maximum period of 12 months.

1.2 Teaching Assistant and Research Assistant Scholarships (Master's Level)

A total of 50 scholarships will be awarded to master's students. The funding structure is as follows:

- First Year: Each student will receive funding up to 90,000 THB per year, disbursed monthly at a rate of up to 9,000 THB for a maximum period of 10 months.
- Subsequent Year: Each student will receive funding up to 108,000 THB per year, disbursed monthly at a rate of up to 9,000 THB for a maximum period of 12 months.

Students who wish to continue receiving the scholarship must submit a formal request for renewal in the following academic year. The maximum duration of scholarship support is up to 3 years for doctoral students and up to 2 years for master's students.

2. Eligibility

2.1 Applicants must have been admitted to a graduate program—either a regular program or a special program—that requires the completion of a thesis in Academic Year 2026 (Student Code 69…). Applicants to special programs are eligible for scholarships only if the program does not have a regular track.

2.2 Applicants must have good academic standing:

1) For applicants to the master's program: Applicant must complete or be in their final year of a bachelor's program, with cumulative GPA at the undergraduate level of at least 3.00 or equivalent.

2) For applicants to the doctoral program:

2.1) Plan 1.1 and 2.1:

Applicants must have completed or be in their final year of a master's program, with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.50 or equivalent. For those in a thesis-only program, they must have published work or demonstrated significant progress in their thesis at a good level.

2.2) Plan 1.2 and 2.2:

Applicants must have completed or be in their final year of a bachelor's program, with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.25 or equivalent.

3. Conditions for Scholarship Recipients

3.1 In all academic publications, scholarship recipients shall include the following statement in the Acknowledgement section:
"This work was supported by the Teaching Assistant/Research Assistant Scholarship (TA/RA Scholarship) from Chiang Mai University."

3.2 Each semester, the academic advisor/supervisor and the scholarship recipient must submit a progress report and a performance evaluation using the official university forms. These reports should highlight specific achievements resulting from the scholarship, such as improvements in the quality and quantity of research publications, the development of textbooks, or the securing of external research funding.

3.3 The academic advisor/supervisor and the scholarship recipient must submit a final report upon completion of the scholarship and provide any further information requested by the scholarship office.

4. Responsibilities and Scope of Work

4.1 Teaching Assistant: Responsibilities include tutoring, preparing and supervising experiments or laboratory work, assisting with fieldwork, grading undergraduate or graduate-level exams with answer keys that do not require further judgment, and other teaching-related tasks as assigned.

4.2 Research Assistant: Responsibilities include data collection, laboratory experimentation, fieldwork assistance, data analysis, interpretation, and other research-related tasks as assigned.

4.3 Workload The total workload for Teaching Assistants and/or Research Assistants, as outlined in sections 4.1 and 4.2, averages in a month no less than 6 hours per week but no more than 9 hours per week. This does not include thesis or research work by the student.

4.4 Assist in various activities of the department, faculty, college, institute, or university as needed.

5. Termination/Revocation of Scholarship

5.1 The recipient is no longer enrolled as a student at Chiang Mai University.

5.2 The recipient changes their faculty, academic program, or degree level.

5.3 The scholarship may be suspended upon the recommendation of the academic advisor/supervisor, program, department, faculty, college, or institute on the grounds of misconduct, inability to satisfactorily perform assigned duties, lack of responsibility, tardiness, non-compliance with scholarship regulations and conditions, or any other reasons deemed appropriate and approved by the CMU Graduate Scholarship Committee.

5.4 The recipient's cumulative GPA falls below 3.25 at the end of two regular semesters within that academic year or research progress is deemed unsatisfactory for thesis-only program.

5.5 The thesis proposal is not approved within the required timeframe:

5.5.1 For Doctoral Degree: Three (3) regular semesters.

5.5.2 For Master's Degree: One (1) academic year, by the final date for the proposal and thesis outline submission and examination, as specified in the academic calendar.

5.6 The thesis topic and outline submitted for scholarship renewal are inconsistent with the University's policies, the University Development Plan, or the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) as originally proposed in the scholarship application.

5.7 The scholarship recipient fails to submit either the required progress report for each semester or the final report of their work performance.

6. Application Process

Applications and supporting documents for the scholarship must be submitted through the online system on the website https://grad-scholarship.oou.cmu.ac.th from Today to June 19, 2026. Further details are provided in the attachment of this announcement.

7. Application Documents Teaching Assistant and Research Assistant Scholarship

7.1 A printed copy of the graduate program application form generated from the online admission system, attached with proof of admission for Academic Year 2026, and signed by the applicant.

7.2 One copy of the academic transcript from the bachelor's degree and/or master's degree, as applicable.

7.3 For applicants who have completed a Thesis-Only master's program, relevant published work related to the thesis must be submitted. For applicants who have not yet completed their master's degree, a progress report on the thesis work must be attached for consideration.

7.4 A detailed research plan (2–5 pages) that aligns with the University Development Plan and the University's Strategic Directions. The proposal must be formally reviewed and approved by the applicant's academic advisor or supervisor.

7.5 Supporting documentation demonstrating that the chosen academic program aligns with the University's strategic initiatives. Applicants who provide this additional documentation shall be eligible for special consideration during the selection process.

Applicants shall name each file using the format "First Name – Last Name – Student Code", and arrange all documents in the order specified above. All documents must be submitted as separate PDF files, organized according to the prescribed sequence.

Important Note: Failure to submit all required documents in accordance with the list specified in Section 7 will result in the application being deemed disqualified. Incomplete applications will not be considered for further evaluation in the selection process.

8. Announcement of Scholarship Recipients

Chiang Mai University will announce the list of scholarship recipients for the Teaching Assistant/Research Assistant positions through the online platform at https://grad-scholarship.oou.cmu.ac.th according to the schedule attached to this announcement.

9. Duration of Work and Scholarship Disbursement

Scholarship recipients must commence their assigned duties according to the proposed scope of work or tasks assigned beginning in Semester 1 of Academic Year 2026 (August 2026). Recipients are required to complete the Teaching Assistant/Research Assistant Work Agreement (by July 2026) using the form prescribed by the University prior to commencing their duties. In addition, recipients must prepare and submit a monthly work performance report as part of the documentation required for monthly disbursement of the scholarship.

10. Consideration and Decision

The selection, termination, and revocation of the scholarship, as well as any matters not explicitly addressed in this announcement, shall be the sole responsibility of the CMU Graduate Scholarship Committee. All decisions evaluated and rendered by the Committee shall be final and binding.

11. General Terms and Conditions

In the event of any discrepancy or inconsistency between the Thai and English versions of this official announcement, the Thai version shall prevail and be deemed the official version.

Announced on June 8 , 2026.
